REBELS WIN BIG BATTLE

El Paso, June 16.—Six hundred federalists were killed or wounded in a battle May 29 at Sausalito, according to reports received from Chihuahua. The rebels are reported to have taken Cusuhurachic, a mining town west of Chihuahua City. The four hundred federalists who Friday evacuated Madera, were met yesterday by Villalobos men at Bustillos. The rebels poured hot fire into the federal troop train, killing the engineer and firemen. The train retired. General Mercado, acting military governor, has called in all other outlying garrisons to the defense of the state capital. The insurgents are maneuvering to prevent these movements.

Some 500 federalists at Juarez alone remain unaffected by the general orders. Juarez is threatened by a movement of constitutionalists from the Ojinaga district below the Texas border, according to reports received at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Practically every railway line in the state is out of commission as a result of rebel activities. There is no traffic on the Mexican Central railway north or south of the state capital. The Mexican Northwest railway is operating below the border only as far as Casas Grande.

A repair train bearing 200 federal infantry is stranded between burned bridges north of Chihuahua, reported refugees arriving by automobile here today.

The only armed force of consequence in the Casas Grande district is led by Colonel M. M. Castillo, a mutineer from the federal ranks. He has proclaimed for the Vasquez Gomez revolution, which is not connected with the constitutional movement. After taking Pearson last week, Castillo was joined by Braulio Hernandez, who previously was reported executed.

Hernandez, a former secretary of the state of Chihuahua, is said to be organizing a provisional government under the Vasquez Gomez banner in the Casas Grande district, which is left unprotected by either federalists or rebels as far south as Madera.

Mexico, June 16.—The rebels have demanded the surrender of the town of San Luis Potosi, the key to communication with Tampico and the oil fields. There are said to be 4,000 rebels between San Luis Potosi and Saltillo and to the east and northeast. Practically all of Tampico, with the exception of Tampico, is at the mercy of the rebels.

General Blanquet, the new minister of war, has promised to protect San Luis Potosi by a general aggressive campaign in the states of San Luis Potosi, Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas. He said yesterday that he planned an expedition from Vera Cruz, consisting of three vessels, which will be sent to Matamoras. He expects co-operation from the south and also will make an effort to open the Laredo route. Durango has been under siege for seventy days and the inhabitants have been reduced to dire straits. The federalists have reoccupied Zacatecas, which was recently evacuated by the rebels.

COAL MINE OPERATORS MULLER TO VISIT WEST

Charleston, W. Va., June 16.—The coal mine operators of West Virginia will begin presentation of their case today before the senate mine strike investigating committee. The attorneys for the operators lined up Sunday scores of witnesses they will produce to show that they are not to be blamed for the conditions which threw the Paint and Cabin Creek mining districts into a state of civil war. Much of the activity of the mine operators' lawyers will be directed toward breaking down the story of Lee Calvin, an ex-mine guard and star witness for the miners, who told the committee Saturday of his experiences on the armored train which shot up the camp of the miners at Holly Grove on Paint Creek just before the last declaration of martial law.

Calvin accused Quinn Morton, a mine operator, of urging that the train return and the fire again on the tented camp after the fires had once raked the little village and after Cisco Estep had been killed beside his home. Quinn Morton himself, Sheriff Hill and others on the train will be called by the operators in an effort to disprove Calvin's statement. Calvin will be recalled for cross-examination.

Conditions leading up to the strike is the only branch of the inquiry which the committee has left to dispose of during its stay in Charleston. When the inquiry here is concluded the committee will return to Washington to finish its hearing. What the final result of the inquiry will be is a matter which is being discussed eagerly.

The committee under the resolution of the senate authorizing the investigation, only has the power to inquire and report. Whether the senate itself has jurisdiction over any of the matters involved in the controversy between the miners and operators is a question. It is possible that as a matter of interstate commerce, the senate may initiate remedial legislation as to any combination against the mine operators of West Virginia, such as is charged in the resolution. But beyond that, even the committee itself doubts its ability to take any real action.

"The state of West Virginia is not on trial here," is the way Senator Swanson, chairman of the committee, states the question. "This committee has no power to try any one for any offense. We are simply here to determine the facts and report them to the full committee on education and labor, to be presented to the senate for its information."

The committee took a holiday today. Senator Martine of New Jersey occupied the pulpit of the First Methodist church of Charleston and delivered a remarkable address. He was introduced as a member of the "American house of lords," and when he took the platform he objected strenuously to the designation.

"I am a member of the senate of

NO MORE HORSECARS IN 'FRISCO; MAYOR DRIVES NAGS LAST TIME OVER ROUTE

Mayor Ralph driving last horsecar in San Francisco.

Wearing a conductor's cap and a broad grin, Mayor Ralph of San Francisco drove the last of that city's horsecars up Market street a few days ago. Thousands of happy 'Friscans witnessed the ceremony. As New York still has many miles of horsecar lines, the people of the western metropolis feel that they still in advance of the eastern city.

the United States," he said, "and I am proud to be, but I cannot accept the designation in a republican form of government of any such cognomen as the 'house of lords.'"

Senator Martine discussed the physical resources of the state, declaring them to be inexhaustible. "But the rich mineral lands of your state," he declared, "have been stricken with the canker of greed. The wealth of the state has been taken from the many by the few. The senate's address caused considerable discussion, but he was warmly greeted by the members of the congregation.

The representatives of the church have gathered together a large amount of documentary evidence of conditions in the coal fields, which will be presented to the committee and made a part of the record. In addition, Senator Kenyon has planned a thorough inquiry into the financial operations of the operators on Paint and Cabin Creeks who lease the lands they mine, and the ownership of the mineral lands.

MULLER TO VISIT WEST

Washington, June 16.—Secretary Bryan discussed yesterday with Dr. Lauro Muller, Brazilian minister of foreign affairs, on special mission here, the reason for the abandonment of the Wilson administration of the so-called "dollar diplomacy policy."

"There is no lack of desire to encourage increase of commercial relations between the United States and Brazil and other nations," Mr. Bryan told his visitor. "This is to be done, however, without having the government back enterprises by American capital in foreign countries. The administration, he added, desires to see American business secured abroad through the establishment of friendly relations with those countries and their people and by the use of absolutely honorable commercial methods. Dr. Muller agreed that this was the wisest policy and he asserted that he would do what he could to encourage Brazil's endorsement of it.

Mr. Bryan suggested that the state departments of the two governments could do much to prevent improper business from gaining a foothold by reporting promptly any cases they discovered. Dr. Muller promised to do this.

Shortly before the Brazilian minister and his party left their hotel for the train last night, Secretary Bryan called to say farewell. On two special cars the minister, his party, accompanied by Dudley F. Malone, third assistant secretary of state, Lieutenant Commander R. C. Fulmer, naval aide, and Captain Levert Coleman, military aide, left at midnight for South Bethlehem to inspect the big steel plant there today. Tuesday will be spent in New York, Wednesday at West Point, Thursday at Boston and Friday at Niagara Falls.

The party will reach San Francisco June 27, and will be back in New York July 7, whence they will take the battleship Minar Geras for Brazil.

SAYS HE FELL IN WITH OGDEN ROBBERS

Lloyd Bacon, who can see and hear but can't talk, fell in with robbers after his arrival in Ogden, was struck on the head and thereby caused again to fall into the peculiar physical ailment which deprives him of his power of speech. This was the story which Bacon narrated by aid of a pencil to local police officers yesterday.

Bacon says he had plenty of money when he came to this city, but that the blow received knocked him unconscious and that he was then robbed. Recovering, he went to the police station. He was able to talk but not to think coherently. He asked lodgings for the night and the next morning found himself unable to talk. Police officers believed his story due to obliquity caused by insanity, had him

FIRING ON THE MINERS

Charleston, W. Va., June 16.—About a single battle in the coal strike on Paint and Cabin creek districts centered Saturday's inquiry by the senate committee investigating the coal mine strike. Almost all day the committee heard statements of the attack on Holly Grove, a strikers' camp, from an armored train run up into the strike district on February 7.

The committee was astounded at the testimony of Lee Calvin, an ex-mine guard, one of the men in the armored train when the strikers' camp was fired on. Cisco Estep, a miner, was killed and Mrs. Annie Hill wounded. Calvin, called by the attorneys for the miners, told a sensational story of the Holly Grove attack. After relating that he had been a "chief guard" on Cabin creek, and had left the district because of the shooting there, he said that Sheriff Hill and Quinn Morton, a mine operator, had met him in Charleston and prevailed upon him to join a party going up Paint creek in the armored train.

"There were ten or twelve men in the car attached to the train," said Calvin, "and when we got just above Paint Creek junction, all of them began getting their rifles. They tried to give me a rifle, but I told them I had no shooting to do. The brake-man came through the train and turned down the lights. He told us not to raise windows, but to shoot right through the windows. I was leaning out of an open window and as we came up to Holly Grove, I saw a stream of fire start out of the baggage car just ahead where the machine guns were mounted. The stream kept up as we went through Holly Grove.

"As we passed I saw three or four flashes of fire from the tents." "Were there any shots from the tents before the shooting began from the train?" asked Attorney Belcher, for the miners.

"I didn't see any," said the witness. "I just heard the engine whistle the blow and the shooting from the train began."

The witness said that Quinn Morton, one of the operators, was on the train. When the train had passed the miners' camp at Holly Grove on its way to Mucklow, he said, Mr. Morton came running back through the car. "What did he say?" asked Belcher. "He said, 'Back up the train and we will give them another round.'"

"He was talking to the sheriff, and I'm not sure, but I think the sheriff told him something about there being women and children up in those tents and he would not shoot."

At this statement, Senator Martine of New Jersey, almost leaped from his chair.

"What sort of a man is this man Quinn Morton?" he shouted. "Is he an ordinary American citizen that he could order such a thing?"

The attorneys for the coal operators were on their feet in a moment and for a time the committee room was in confusion.

"Mr. Morton will be brought before your committee," shouted Attorney Jackson, "and you will see him and talk with him."

"God help me, then," remarked Senator Martine.

Attorneys for the operators protested against Senator Martine's remarks and after some argument they were told by the committee that they would be given an opportunity to cross-examine.

"It startled me when I was asked for money to promote the Christian

RECORD HOT DAY IN MANY CITIES

Washington, June 16.—Practically the entire country sweltered yesterday under the first real hot wave of the season and last night the weather bureau experts held out no hope for cooler weather within the next 48 hours. Omaha, Neb., and St. Joseph, Mo., were the hottest cities in the United States with the mercury hovering around 96 degrees. Chicago ran a close second with the thermometer registering 95. Washington suffered its hottest day of the season and one heat stroke occurred. The maximum temperature at the weather bureau yesterday was 92, but the government street thermometer registered 100 degrees.

TWIN FALLS PRISONER ESCAPES FROM SHERIFF

Denver, June 15.—John Chisholm of Twin Falls, Idaho, jumped from the window of a moving Union Pacific passenger train near here today, thus escaping from the custody of Deputy Sheriff Daniel Vierbauer, of Kent county, Michigan, by whom Chisholm was being taken to Grand Rapids, Mich., to answer to a charge of bigamy.

According to the story told by the deputy sheriff, Chisholm married Bernice Putney at Twin Falls, March 23, 1913, and a month later left his wife and went to Grand Rapids, where he married Julia Hastings.

We begin to wish we never had trained this silly climate.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

religion," said Mr. Rosenwald, whose gift of $25,000 was the nucleus of the building fund, "but I thought as long as I was going to give money to Africans I would give it here where we have millions of negro citizens instead of to foreign missions."

Washington repeatedly addressed his audience as "black men," and "negroes."

"That's what they call us down yonder where I was raised," he said, "and I see no objection to it. I notice other speakers here hesitate to apply the proper appellation. You are black men and negroes and there is no reason to object to the terms."

CUNNINGHAM REPORTED SAFE

"Roy and I safe here. Bandits wanted 200 pesos under pain of death. First corps of Rurales—deserted—arrive, caught and killed bandits."

"J. A. CUNNINGHAM, JR." "San Luis Potosi, Mex., June 15." "Cunningham brothers safe here. Had unpleasant experience, but uninjured."

"BONNEY, American Consul." "San Luis Potosi, Mex., June 15."

These telegrams received yesterday relieved the mind of J. A. Cunningham, mining man living at the Semiah hotel, Salt Lake, whose two sons Roy and J. A. Cunningham were captured by bandits near San Luis Potosi several days ago, causing authorities at Washington to demand swift action on the part of the Mexican government. According to the interpretation given the telegrams, the rescue was accomplished by fleet rurales and apparently under fire, as the bandits were killed. Mr. Cunningham and his daughter, Mrs. W. St. John Downey, are anxiously waiting the arrival of letters from the Cunningham brothers. It is thought they will carry a thrilling story of adventure.

FARMER REGAINS HIS GOOD HEALTH

Relieved of Long Standing Trouble by the Use of Plant Juice

J. P. Russell has regained his health through the use of Plant Juice. For four years he has not been able to partake of a hearty meal until recently when he started taking Plant Juice. He said:

"Plant Juice is the only remedy that I have ever taken—and I have taken about everything that has been recommended—that did me good. I have not been in better health for five years. I was troubled with constipation and bloating stomach. Nothing seemed to help me until I started to take this medicine. Now I am feeling fine and eat my meals with a relish, something that I have not been able to do for four years. I can now recommend Plant Juice."

Mr. Russell's illness was brought on by a case of typhoid fever. He is a farmer of Roy and has lived in this vicinity for the last thirty-five years. There are thousands in Utah and in other states who are just as pleased to tell the good results received from this new medicine. It heals stomach ailments which have been most distressing. Plant Juice is made from natural herbs and plants and is therefore a natural remedy. These juices are compounded by a careful and scientific method and therefore have properties which bring about health in the ailing body. Sold at McIntyre Drug store, 2421 Washington avenue.
